DISINFECTION.

Disinfection is so essential a factor in clean living in Hongkong that some remarks by Dr Lauzun Brown on the subject of disinfecting schoolrooms should not be amiss. The doctor says that soap and water have been in use for ages, and were used with great advantage in the old days o "Hospitalism," when over 90 per cent. of operation wounds were poisoned in spite of soap and water. Constant scrubbing floors and walls is a tedious, irksome and DAY, MAY 11, 1907, commencing at 9 P.M. costly method of cleansing, and even the sorub the scarlet fever or diphtheria Grace, Lammert, Jokl, Sutherland, Worcesenergy of a Dutch dairymaid will no germs out of an infected schoolroom floor. Whiteness of wood does not mean steriliza tion or safety from infection. Science shows that spmething more is required, and has provided it in effective disinfectants. These alone, when properly used, have the power to kill the living origin of the dread infectious diseases: Let the surgeon drop his sterilized knife or any other instrument on the schoolroom floor, and he will immediately place it in a bath of disinfectant before again attempting to use it. The virtue and power of disinfectants.

It is patent that health authorities in this and Shanghai. country practice the art of disinfecting homes and public places in the most absurd and perfunctory manner. Every one recollects how post-offices recked with crude carbolic, which was sprinkled on the floor HONGKONG AND SHANGHAI BANK- minutes from Clock Tower. which will shortly be ready to produce on a or laid away thickly in some corner of the large scale the best Buzen Coal. room. Medical officers of health or the lads appointed by them, will, in the name Agencies of the Company will receive any of disinfection, light a sulphur cone and order for Coals produced from the above tear the paper off the walls of the room in T. MATSUKI, Manager, Hongkong, which an infectious patient has lately been suffering. Moths, butterflies, and even rats and mice have been left alive after this Nook, for the purpose of considering and, careless disinfecting process has been Resolutions: finished. Such a process is a shantand a farce. Some houses n which injective diseases exist, as, for instance, in the case of epidemic diar hoea, which caused 18,600, deaths in London alone in infants, equivalent. to 144 per 1,000 births (1904), are either not disinfected at all or else the proc ss is performed more as a rile and ce emony than as a real aid to the public

Most things, visible or invisible, science has revealed to us, are distinguished by simplicity, and the effective methods of dust cleansing is no exception to this rule. It is also an uncostly process, and there is really no reason except that conviction has not yet been brought home to the minds of those most responsible for its due performance. The old method of springcleaning is as out of date as the ancient Roman festivals, and as antiquated as the institution of the Passover. I have seen medical officers gravely ! disinfecting "save the mark! a negro's hut, in which deaths from small-pox had taken place, by putting a lump of sulphur into a pail standing in water, stuffing up all the crevices with dried grass and burning the sulphur. This rite was gravely performed in the name of disinfection, and the place was afterwards reported to the Governor as having been satisfactorily cleansed. The method nowadays in use is much more effective. It consists of spraying on the floors and walls and effective disinfectant, one which is capable of uniting with the dust, and having done so, of destroying all the germs which have found lodgment in its particles. There are many so-called disinfectants. One largely used for its efficiency is Cyllin. This is peculiarly necessary in schoolrooms, into which so 828 much dust is brought from the outer world every day. Children love dust, and rel in it in the open air without any harm. When dust, however, is brought into contact WE have This Day taken over the When dust, however, is brought into contact business of Edm. Johannsen, and with infectious matter in a close, warm will conduct same in future under the style moist room, it not only acts as a breeding nest for infectious germs of the diseases to which children are especially prone, but tends to provoke fits of coughing and sneezing, thus scattering millions of discuse germs into the atmosphere. When air is still, the dust filters down through the

TROUBLE WITH BLUE-JACKETS.

WASHINGTON, May 2. The War Department has received advices from Commander Chapman of the protected cruiser- "Tacoma" lying in the harbor of Santingo de Cuba, to the effect that ten members of the crew of that erviser have been injured by the police of Santiago. It appears that the crew of the Tacoma were taking shore leave and were set upon by the police of the city in a con-DRAWING ROOM SUITE, IRON and BRAM certed action and badly beaten up. The police of Santiago have resented the presence of the Americans in the port ever since the "Tacoma" anchored there. A partial investigation on the part of the CONSTANTINOPLE, March 30, A trage incident occurred on Thursday in the criminal court of Stambul during the trial of a prisoner named Mustapha- for shooting a fellow spy named Arif Bey some five months ago. Arif's brother, who was in court, and had followed the trial closely. on hearing that the murderer of his brother was about to be acquitted, drew a revolver and deliberately fired four shots at Mustapha, killing him on the spot. The assailant then throw down the revolver and surrendered, saying, "This is justice." One of the five persons soriously wounded by the bomb which exploded in the Pera quarter near the English girls' school. last night, was an Armenian named Keuchoglu, formerly an intimate friend of the notorious Fehim Pasha, who was lately exiled at the instance of Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, the German Ambassador. 803 It is supposed, therefore, that the act was one of private revenge on the part of Fehim Pasha's followers, Keuchoglu having recently broken with his former associates. Another explanation is that the outrage was perpetrated by the secret police with a view of justifying their existence, for large sums are spent annually on their maintenance. These outrages are becoming a serious menace to public safety, but the authorities appear impotent to put a stop to them. The bomb which exploded last night was a powerful one, loaded with bullets. Windows in the neighbourhood were broken, and shutters pierced by the balls. Happily, the streets in this fashionable quarter of Constantinople were com paratively empty at the time, or else the loss of life and injuries to passers by migh

Tell a Samoan that there are their necks with boars tusks and opposite poor people in existence and he replies, teeth. They have no gratitude and you "poor, have they got no bananas?" You can give them the most yearned for things remark that bananas do not grow in all and they will make no effort at all to thank parts of the world and he rejoins: "Well, you, considering it beneath their dignity have they no friends?" It is impossible to do so.

for him to believe that the hospitality which marks his island home is non-existent elsewhere. In Samoa houses are thrown open to friends, and payment is never, or seldom, asked. When the Samoan knows you, he invites you to his home and you are the most favoured guest. He will do anything for you.

Whilst we were there we were invited to a daughter of the late King Malietoa Lauppa) which was being given in honour of some for the world-weary mortal—the delectable | white-friends. After a repast of cocoanuts who were assembled in the house, began to dance. The dance was performed sitting, was dressed in banana leaves and her body was oiled with coconnit oil until it glistened wreathed round her neck. Eventually she became so impetuous and boisterous, so carried away as it were, that she tore off and murmuring palm trees, and succumbed everything she were with the exception of a "titi" which covered her loins, and forgot everything but the joy and the enchantment of the dance. The assemblage beat time with their hands on the matting, and gradually made it quicker and quicker. It is impossible to imagine the startling weirdness of the picture that was presented to us. You must have seen a charming mystical and bewitching by the flickering lights from the numerous cocoanut oil lamps : you must have seen hundreds and wild but still harmonious singing, before it is possible for you to realize what this dance is like. At all events it will remain in our memories fresh and unsullied for all

In Apla we visited the grave of Robert "Vallima," and is now taken over is to be regretted that nothing has been lieft to perpetuate the memory of the famous writer. The house has been rebuilt. Stevenson's grave is situated on top of a mountain and is indeed a grave of

A very interesting excursion from Apia is to Panasea, or the sliding rock. The route is through the virgin forest where the enormous banyan trees cover great areas of land. The banyan is indeed the octupus of chewed it) and mixes it in four or five cocoa- the woods. Vines cluster and cling to stems. Occasionally you get glimpses of magnificent birds, and suddenly you come of the rocks has been so polished by the water that it affords excellent sport for the young girls. They clamber to the top and the blue pool at the foot. The echoes are awakened by delightful singing and laughter. Further on is a crater lake, Lanote, which is spoken of as perfectly round, and contains magnificent green water. The sides of the crater are covered with velvet-like verdure and hugo cocoanut palms hang out and mirror thomselves in the pellucid lake. On the surface of the water not a leaf is to be seen and the fact that whatever falls into the water sinks to the bottom has convinced the natives that the water is enchanted. They believe, in fact, that this lake is full

> THE BOMBAY MILL INDUSTRY.

BOMBAY, April 20. Speaking at the annual meeting of the Millowners Association, the Chairman in alluding to the features of the industry during the past year said there had been a great increase in the production of both yarn and cloth, but despite that 55,000 bales less had been shipped to China. He was glad to see there had been larger consumption in India due, he believed, to the interest taken by the people in the Swadeshi 827 movement. He expressed thanks to Government for the measures taken to obtain a ready market for Egyptian Sind cotton in India believing the high prices realised would lend the Zemindars to extend the crops. In alluding to the Tata hydroelectrical scheme he said when that was introduced it would involve a saving in expenditure on steam power of between ten and fifteen per cent. There would be no smoke and there would be greater clean-
